

TABLE OF CONTENTS

LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS	7
I. INTRODUCTION	8
1.1 The puzzle: Ambivalent NATO-Russia relations (2000 – 2008)	8
1.2 “Security Communities” – Logics of Emergence and Decay	10
1.3 The Structure of the research project	12
1.4 Introducing methodology – a constructivist approach	13
1.5 Research techniques & time frame – discourse analysis (2000 – 2008)	16
II. MAKING SENSE OF COOPERATION IN IR	20
2.1 Making sense of cooperation in IR theory	20
2.2 The constructivist theory of security communities	23
2.2.1 The original concept of security communities	23
2.2.2 A constructivist tailoring of security communities	25
2.2.3 Theoretical shortcomings in the theory of security communities	28
III. NATO-RUSSIA RELATIONS UNDER PUTIN (2000 – 2008)	32
3.1 NATO & Russia – A Security Community?	32
3.2 The degree of multilateralism in NATO-Russia relations	33
3.3 Unfortified borders between NATO and Russia?	34
3.4 Changes in military planning between NATO and Russia	35
3.5 A common definition of threats?	36
3.6 A language of community between NATO and Russia?	38

3.7 Preliminary conclusion: No security community, but elements exist	40
--	-----------

IV. THE RUSSIAN DISCOURSE ON NATO (2000 – 2008)	41
---	-----------

4.1 On the verge of military confrontation in 1999	41
---	-----------

4.2 Unexpected rapprochement – Steering westwards (2000 – 2003)	43
--	-----------

4.2.1 The discourse on NATO-Russia Cooperation	44
--	----

4.2.2 The discourse on international terrorism – fighting a common enemy	47
--	----

4.2.3 The discourse on NATO's functional and territorial enlargement	48
--	----

4.3 Heating up for disaster (2004 – 2006)	52
--	-----------

4.3.1 The discourse on NATO-Russia cooperation and the CFE treaty	53
---	----

4.3.2 The discourse on NATO engagement in CIS countries	55
---	----

4.3.3 The discourse on NATO membership of Georgia and Ukraine	59
---	----

4.3.3.1 The discourse on Georgia's potential NATO membership	60
--	----

4.3.3.2 The discourse on Ukraine's potential NATO membership	62
--	----

4.4 Spiraling down and hitting rock bottom (2007 – 2008)	65
---	-----------

4.4.1 The Russian discourse in 2007: BMD, CFE, and Tallinn	66
--	----

4.4.2 The Russian discourse until “08/08”: Kosovo, Georgia and Ukraine	70
--	----

4.4.3 The Russian discourse on the war with Georgia and Russia's relations
--	--

with the West	73
---------------	----

4.5 Summary and concluding remarks	78
---	-----------

V. CONCLUSION	82
-----------------------------	-----------

VI. BIBLIOGRAPHY	86
--------------------------------	-----------

6.1 Articles and monographies	86
--------------------------------------	-----------

6.2 Official documents and speeches	93
--	-----------

6.3 Quoted newspapers and other electronic sources	96
---	-----------

ABOUT THE AUTHOR	98
--------------------------------	-----------