

Contents

Foreword	1
Preface	3
Acknowledgements	5
Research Questions	7
Chapter One: Gender Concepts and Theories	7
Chapter Two: Gender, Society and Culture	7
Chapter Three: Gender and Rural-Urban Dichotomy	8
Chapter Four: Gender, Self Concept and Population Change	8
Chapter Five: Gender and Rural Spatial Organization	8
Chapter Six: Gender and Rural Community Leadership	9
Chapter Seven: Gender, Social Groups and Participation	10
Chapter Eight: Gender, Adoption of Innovation and Social Change	10
Chapter Nine: Gender and Sustainable Rural Development in Nigeria	10
Introduction	13
1. Gender Concepts and Theories	21
1.1. Gender Concepts	21
1.2. Tools for Gender Mainstreaming	25
1.3. Principles Guiding Effective Gender Mainstreaming	26
1.4. Gender Mainstreaming Policies in Nigeria	27

1.5. Sociology and Theoretical Background of Gender	30
a. Gender Socialization	32
1.6. Theoretical Models/Theories in Sociological Studies	33
1.7. The Evolutionary Models/Theories	34
1.8. The Structural-Functional Models/Theories.	36
a. Limitations /Criticisms of the Structural-Functional Models/Theories	38
1.9. The Conflict Models/Theories	39
a. Criticism of the Conflict Models/Theories	40
1.10 Gender Perspective of the Sociological Models/Theories . . .	42
a. The Evolutionary Theory	42
b. Structural Functionalism Theory	43
c. Conflict Theory	43
d. Contemporary Socialization Theory	45
e. Social and Psychological Gender Differences	47
1.11 Social Order	50
a. Principles of Social Order:	51
b. Elements of Social Order:	52
c. Theories of Social Order	55
1.12 Social Change	55
a. The Functionalist Perspective	58
b. Critics	59
References and Further Readings	60
Research Questions	63
 2. Gender, Society and Culture	 65
2.1. Gender and Society	65
a. Evolution of Societies	65
b. Organization of Society	67
c. Information Society	68

Contents

d. Knowledge Society	69
References and Further Readings	70
2.2. Gender Perspective of Social Structure	71
a. Elements of Social Structure	74
b. Origins of Social Structure	75
References and Further Readings	76
2.3. Gender Perspective of Social Network	77
a. Social Network Analysis	77
b. Bases of Social Network	80
c. History of Social Network Analysis	80
d. Application to Environmental Issues	84
e. Measures in Social Network Analysis	84
f. Network Analytic Software	86
g. Vizualization of Networks	86
References and Further Readings	86
2.4. Gender and Social Stratification	90
a. Karl Marx Theory	91
b. Max Weber.	92
c. Kinship-orientation	93
d. Social Impact	94
e. Power Distribution	94
f. Three Characteristics of Stratified Systems.	95
References and Further Readings	96
2.5. Gender and Social Class	97
a. Causes and Outcomes of Social Class	98
b. Consequences of Class Position	99
c. Class Theoretical Models	99
d. Class Structure in Various Societies	109
References and Further Readings	115

2.6. Gender and Social Mobility	119
a. Absolute and Relative Mobility	122
b. Rules of Status: Ascription and Achievement	123
c. Structural and Exchange Mobility	124
d. Upward and Downward Mobility	124
e. Mobility in the American Workforce	124
f. Educational Factor	125
g. Gender and Race/Ethnicity	126
h. The Negative Impact of Incarceration on Social Mobility	128
i. Symbols on Social Mobility	130
j. Sociological Views of Neighbourhood Boundaries	131
k. Social Mobility and Economic Mobility	132
l. Mobility Regimes	132
References and Further Readings	133
2.7. Gender, Class, Culture and Networks	134
a. Archeological Approaches to Culture: Matter and Meaning	146
b. Language and Culture	148
c. Cultural Anthropology	151
d. Cultural Change	164
References and Further Readings	165
Research Questions	175
3. Gender-Mapping of Rural-Urban Dichotomy	177
3.1. Gender Perspective of Rural-Urban Dichotomy	177
3.2. General Differences between Rural and Urban Communities in Nigeria	178
3.3. Cultural and Infrastructural Differences between Rural and Urban Communities in Nigeria	180

3.4. Gendered Pattern of Inequalities in Nigerian Rural Communities	183
a. Criteria for Social Stratification in Nigerian Society	184
b. Types of Social Stratification.	186
c. Significance of Social Stratification	186
3.5. Gender and Conception of Knowledge in Nigerian Rural Communities	187
3.6. Gender and Socio-Cultural Modelling	194
a. Herbert Spencer in 1862	195
b. Ferdinand Tönnies in 1887.	196
c. Emile Durkheim in 1893.	198
d. Durkheim's Criticisms of Tönnies' Typology	201
e. Quotes:.	201
f. Max Weber in 1922	202
g. Other Typologists include:	204
References and Further Readings	204
Research Questions	205
4. Gender, Self-Concept and Population Change in Nigerian Rural Communities	207
4.1. Gender Perspective of Self Concept.	207
References and Further Readings	212
4.2. Vital Processes of Population Change in Nigeria	213
4.3. Gendered Patterns of Human Migration	214
4.4. Modern Migrations	216
a. Industrialization	216
b. World War II.	217
4.5. Theories of Migration.	218
a. Ravenstein	218
b. Lee.	219

c. Climate cycles	220
d. Other models.	220
4.6. Gendered Pattern of Rural-Urban Migration in SouthWestern (SW) Nigeria	223
4.7. Conceptualized Gender Dynamics of the Rural-Urban Migration Process in SW Nigeria	225
4.8. Theoretical Perspective of Rural-Urban Migration's Implications on Rural Poverty and Food Insecurity in Nigeria	230
References and Further Readings	233
Research Questions	237
5. Gender and Rural Spatial Organisation	239
5.1. Spatial Organization of Rural Communities in Nigeria	239
5.2. Gender Perspective of Spatial Distribution/Settlement Patterns in Nigerian Rural Communities	240
a. Clustered Settlement (compact or nucleated settlement)	241
b. Dispersed Settlement (scattered settlement)	242
5.3. Intersection of Gender, Ethnicity and Rural Spatial Distribution in Nigeria	244
a. Hausa and Fulani village organisation	245
5.4. Gender Perspective of Rural Spatial Utilization in Nigeria	250
References and Further Readings	252
Research Questions	257
6. Gender and Rural Community Leadership	259
6.1. Gender Perspective of the Concept of Leadership.	259
6.2. Gender, Rural Politics and Government in Nigeria	278
References and Further Readings	282

Research Questions	282
7. Gender, Social Groups and Participation	283
7.1. Gender Analysis of Social Groups in Nigerian Rural Communities	283
7.2. Gender and Social Institutions in Nigerian Rural Communities	286
7.3. Social Interaction	296
7.4. Gender Analysis of People's Participation	300
References and Further Readings	306
7.5. Participatory Development (PD):	307
a. Variations of Participatory Development	307
b. Participatory Technology Development (PTD):	309
References and Further Readings	321
Research Questions	323
8. Gender, Adoption of Agricultural Innovations, and Social Change	325
8.1. Gender Perspective of Diffusion and Adoption of Agricultural Innovations	325
a. Diffusion of innovations	325
b. Elements of Diffusion of Innovations	326
c. Types of Innovation-Decisions	327
d. The Adoption Process	328
e. Characteristics of Innovations	330
f. Heterophily and Communication Channels.	333
g. Opinion Leaders within a Social System	333
h. Consequences of Adoption of Innovations	334
References and Further Readings	344

8.2. The Role of Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) in Diffusion of Innovations	345
a. Significance of ICT for Gender Responsive Diffusion of Innovations.	345
References and Further Readings	345
Research Questions	345
9. Gender and Rural Community Development in Nigeria . . .	347
9.1. Concept of Rural Community Development	347
a. The History of Community Development	348
b. Community Building and Organizing	354
c. Asset-Based Community Development	355
9.2. Gender Perspective of Rural Community Development in Nigeria	355
9.3. Gender Analysis of the Dimensions of Rural Change in Nigeria	357
9.4. Gender Implications of the Changing Patterns in Nigerian Agriculture	359
9.5. Gender and the Concept of Sustainable Development.	362
a. Environmental Sustainability.	365
b. Capital and Sustainable Development	365
c. Critiques of the Concept of Sustainable Development . . .	368
d. “De-growth”	370
e. Economic Perspective to Sustainable Development	371
References and Further Readings	371
Research Questions	373
Figures	375